ATLANTA (July 27, 2017) – International hotel company Capella Hotel Group is pleased to announce that the newest addition to its portfolio, Solís Two Porsche Drive, is slated to debut at the Porsche Experience Center campus in late 2017. The hotel will serve as Solís Hotels and Resorts' first concept to be introduced in the United States, joining the brand's existing locations in China and Ireland.

"Choosing Atlanta as the first U.S. destination for Solís Hotels and Resorts is of great significance for the brand," said Horst H. Schulze, chairman emeritus of Capella Hotel Group. "We believe that the city is one of the most highly coveted destinations for the well-traveled Solís guests and cannot wait to contribute to the continued success of the area as an attraction for visitors both stateside and abroad."

Solís Two Porsche Drive contributes to the further development of the Atlanta Airport Business District, pushing forward the notion of the aptly named Aerotropolis envisioned by city and state officials since the early 2000s. The modern design and upscale nature of the hotel will complement and further enhance the initiative to create a dynamic city center previously absent from the south side of Atlanta.

Designed to appeal to the sophisticated travelers of the 21st century, Solís Two Porsche Drive will place a dedicated focus on personalized hospitality and impeccable service standards to fulfill each guest's unique needs. Unexpected delights and authentic local adventures including events, overnight package experiences and more will abound at every turn, encouraging guests to take advantage of all Atlanta has to offer.

The hotel, designed by architecture firm HOK Atlanta and interior design group Peter Silling & Associates, will boast 214 guest rooms, including 18 executive suites, nine track view suites and one presidential suite, providing guests an immersive luxury experience to complement that of the nearby Porsche Experience Center. As a core aspect of the Porsche campus, guests of Solís Two Porsche Drive will be privy to a number of amenities in conjunction with the complex's luxury services, including subtle, sports car-inspired interior design touches, hotel-coordinated site tours and exclusive driving experiences.

"Solís Two Porsche Drive's premier location on the Porsche Experience Center campus will allow the hotel to provide a number of unmatched guest experiences specific to the Atlanta market," said Schulze. "The Solís Promise ensures guests will find local color, cosmopolitan comfort and inspiring cuisine in each of our hotels, something we cannot wait to provide our future Atlanta guests in tandem with the Porsche team."

Guests staying in the hotel's nine track-facing suites will be captivated with first class views of the Porsche Handling Course, which can also be viewed from the eighth-floor rooftop lounge. The hotel will also feature a Porsche model car display out front and two white Porsche Cayennes reserved for VIP transportation to and from nearby Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport.

In addition to amenities and partnership with the Porsche Experience Center, the hotel will delight guests with intriguing food and beverage options authentic to the heart of the Solís brand. Featuring a dynamic restaurant focused on fresh, seasonally-driven cuisine and a rooftop lounge serving hand-crafted cocktails, guests of Solís Two Porsche Drive will be inspired to stay in and enjoy a comfortable and spirited environment each evening.

Also within the hotel, 6,500 square feet of multi-use event space will be highlighted by an opulent 3,600 square foot ballroom, ideal for wedding receptions, corporate events and more.
